To whom it may concern:

Paul Suchecki worked for us as the Production manger/First Assistant Director on "Media Madman", our most recent feature. Throughout the shoot we found him to be a dedicated, hard worker who cheerfully put in many long hours. Consistently prompt, we found him to be a good humored, diplomatic manager, who was never short tempered despite constant pressure.

He has in-depth technical knowledge of both film and video, and was always ready to lend a hand where his expertise could be put to use. As a frequent director himself, he was sensitive to the needs of talent, and kept the crew members hopping without incurring their resentment. His creative solutions often ease the way, and our final result is testimony to the teamwork he helped build. Organized and intelligent, we would eagerly hire him again.

Sincerely
